As a Hillsdale County native, I decided to open a restaurant near my home town. In 2001 I opened The Chicago Water Grill, named after the two streets that it stood upon, which was a prime location on the legendary Sauk Trail.

For eight years, people came from miles around to enjoy a night of fine dining and great atmosphere at the ChicagoWater Grill. Sadly, the ChicagoWater Grill was destroyed by a fire in 2009. The entire community rallied behind me, so I made the decision to rebuild.

During that process, I worked with designers and architects to create a modern atmosphere with the same fine dining experience. In 2011, named after my first child, who was born during the construction, Olivia's Chop House was completed.

Now, just as the ChicagoWater Grill before, Olivia's Chop House is the premier dining destination in Hillsdale County. People travel from miles around to experience the great atmosphere, as well as the fantastic menu.
